OF MEMORIES

Foreword

Looking eagerly now into the future, we are proud of what we have accomplished and the people who have helped us accomplish it.

When we think of the four years spent at E. E. Smith, a feeling of sadness overcomes us at the thought of leaving. These were years that we shall cherish always. Every day seems to have been filled with sunshine. Even the shadowed ones bring smiles to us now that we have overcome them.

In this annual publication we have tried to capture some of the highlights of our life here at E. E. Smith. We have enjoyed putting this classic together, and we know that we have increased in harmony by working together.

We hope this book will help you to see that this is really "An Affair to Remember."

Editor

AS TIME GOES BY,

To you

Miss Cora Lee Thompson, we sincerely dedicate the "1958 Smithsonian."

Through the years you have constantly kept us aware of our scholastic standings and motivated us to excel in all undertakings. In your work you show so much sincerity, devotion and understanding. The basis of our choice was a result of your numerous qualities which are simply the things which make you -----you.

Dedication

AND MEMORIES GROW DIM

Our Principal

Mr. E.E. Miller

FROM THE CLASS of '58

We, the class of 1958, will remember these years spent here at Smith always. They, now that we look back, seem to have gone too fast. We dreamed of how happy we would be when graduation came. Now that it is here we look upon it with mixed emotions. We are eager to get out into the world and all its new experiences. Yet we grow sad when we look back to our life here. We shall miss the joy of the first day of school, the excitement of seeing the Bulls crush their opponents, and most of all the association with our friends whom we soon must leave.

As time goes by as memories grow dim, this book, these words, these pictures will become dearer to us. They will remind us of our dreams and ambitions of these days and inspire us to keep after our goals.

THINGS WHICH WILL LINGER ON

Administration

We wish to express our gratitude to Mrs. M.A. Johnson, the secretary of our school, for the part she has played in making these years more pleasant for us.

Mr. W.T. Brown, our assistant principal, with a sense of humor, understanding, and patience will always be remembered as an outstanding man and friend.

We sincerely thank Miss C. L. Thompson, our guidance counselor, for the help she has given us in solving many of our problems, both far reaching and immediate.

WILL REMIND US OF OUR DREAMS AND AMBITIONS IN THESE CHERISHED DAYS.

Alma Mater

Smith High we love thy name,
Be thou our guide.
With deep affection and recollection,
Our Alma Mater thou.
Under thy sheltering arms,
We'll stand always
And singing the praises of our Smith High School.

Rah, Rah, Rah, With hearty cheers
Hip, Hip, Hip. We have no fears

Smith High we love thy name,
Be thou our guide.
With deep affection and recollection,
Our Alma Mater thou.
Under thy sheltering arms,
We'll stand always
And singing the praises of our Smith High School.

Class Poem

Our school days ended, before us the future lies,
A great challenge. Cloudless are the skies,
The time seems a slave to our will,
Endless tomorrows with happiness we fill.
Journeying unfamiliar paths we'll travel free
And find the sunny road to success.
But never, never lonely shall we fare
For you, Smith Hi, will be in our dreams everywhere.

With heart strong for battle and determined to win,
May we not weaken when the work begins;
For only contentment fools find and keep
But to him who succeeds the road is steep,
The top is farther on the way
And splendor is but a sunbeam, soon to stray.
Faithful to our work, respectful to our call,
And seeing it isn't too easy not too small
Each toil a benediction and for us the best
We'll do it well and leave God the rest.

Class Song

Our four years here is a precious thing
That we'll rejoice in remembering,
We've shared our joys and sorrows here,
So it's hard to part from those who've grown dear.

CLASS COLORS:
Red & White

Remember parents and teachers, too,
That it's with your guidance we start anew;
With courage, faith and the knowledge gained
We can face life's problems and share its pains.

CLASS FLOWER:
Carnation

This class of nineteen and fifty-eight
Will long remember this wondrous date;
The hour draws near as the time flies past
So with heavy hearts we depart at last.

We leave undaunted and unafraid
Of any future that lies ahead,
We've come this far so we can't turn back;
But, before we go, Smith you must know -
You'll always be remembered.

(TUNE: AN AFFAIR TO REMEMBER)

Class History

'Twas the year nine-teen hundred and fifty-four when,
Like a mother who bears her first child,
The new E. E. Smith building welcomed its first freshmen who,
In their knowledge of high school life
Were as fresh and as new as the building receiving them.

Like a new born child, wide-eyed and adventurous,
We entered this new building seeking to acquaint ourselves
With our new home where we were to be residents for four years.

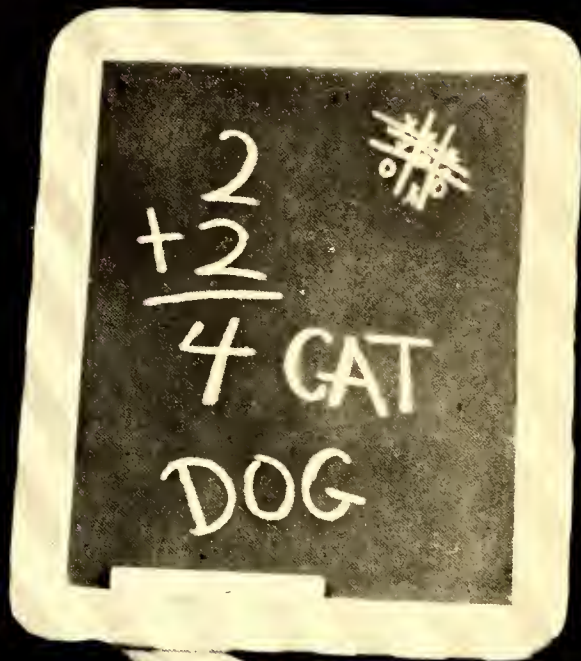

Our freshman year was just what the word says, "fresh".
We spent this year becoming familiar with the surroundings
And this new life which we were being introduced to.
Our sophomore year faded away with us
Tantalizing the "fresh" ones and looking up to the "stale" ones.
That junior year was tops!
Like a teen-ager who makes her debut to society,
We went out on our first real date
The prom! This was it!
Loads of good entertainment from the beginning to the end
With seniors as our guests.
It was at this affair that we witnessed the first Appearance of our popular singing group, The Teen-Tones.
Our trip to the nation's capital was our greatest experience.

Last, but not least, was that senior year.
Rough? Yes, but interesting.
For the past three years, we had been "foot-loose" and "fancy-free"
Now, we have grown up and are ready to taste life.
This year was the climax of our high school days
Or shall we say "high school daze".
Now our faithful parents of education have released us
From the shelter of their wings and
We are forced to separate, each his separate way,
And taste the pills of life, whether they be bitter
Or whether they be pleasant.

Yes, four wonderful years of high school of which
There was never a dull moment.
From our freshman year to our senior year we have been Represented and represented well, at home and away from home.
Not only has this big wonderful family produced such fine
And outstanding athletes as Bobby Williams, William Carver,
Douglas McMillan, Hervey Simmons, Edgar Merritt, Leo Campbell,
Richard Williams, J. D. McIntyre, David Hollingsworth and
William Freeman, but we are exceptionally proud to say
That our class has produced the only two amateur "hams"
Our school has yet owned, namely, Lawrence Young, and Derry Galbreath.
This plus our singers, dancers, actors and actresses,
Band members, majorettes and artists.
Others have received honor for their superior scholastic ability.
Could you blame us for being proud to say that our class is the first to complete four years of education
At the new E. E. Smith Senior High School?
Looking back on these four years of high school life,
We can really be proud of our achievements,
And profit by our mistakes.
We have been taught; we have learned.
We have had dark moments; we have had bright moments.
And with four years of memories and learned knowledge,
And with a purpose in mind for a higher level of life,
The class of '58 bids "sayonara" to an unforgettable stage of life
And to those striving to experience it.

ALVIN HILL

PRESIDENT

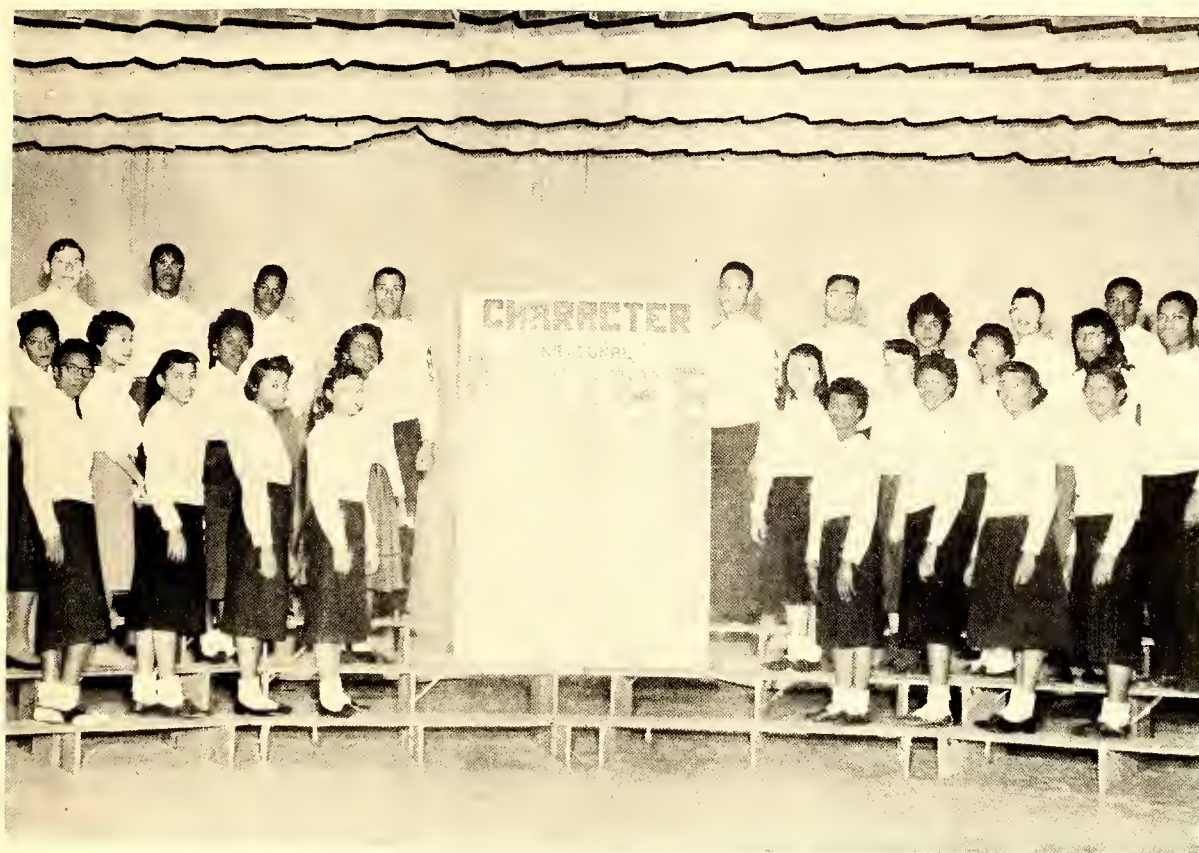

In 1956, upon the request of a friend, I attended the state Student Council Convention at Charlotte, N. C. There, I became inspired by the success of other student councils throughout the state. On returning to Smith, I became interested in establishing a successful one here.

Today, as president of our school student council, I am proud to state that we have made our promise explicit: "The Student Council functions of the students, for the students, and by the students."

WILLIAMS MAKES ALL-STATE

Bobby Earl Williams, a senior and one of our "golden bulls" enabled every Smithite to hold his head up with pride when he was selected to the All-State football team this year. Williams, a brilliant passer, led the Bulls all the way to a 7-2 record that carried them to a playoff with Adkins High of Kinston.

Williams makes up for his quiet and slow air by his hard work, cool head, and determination. His brilliant plays in the shrine bowl game have several colleges clamoring for his services.

Bobby, as he is called by his many friends, is a success in other sports as well. He is starter on the varsity basketball team. In baseball he plays an excellent center field position and is a heavy stick man.

TWO BULLS PARTICIPATE IN SHRINE BOWL

Richard Williams and Bobby Williams, both seniors, were selected to play in the Shrine Bowl Game this year. This game features the most outstanding high school players in competition - West vs. East. We agree that both Richard and Bobby are outstanding Bulls and have made us proud of them.

Elmer McMillian, a junior, was also elected to play at this game, but he gave up the honor in order to be able to be with the Bulls another season.

The Bulls will long remember Bobby and we all hope his understudy, Alvin Walker, will be successful.

"TEEN-TONES" STILL TOPS

The "Teen-Tones," a senior singing group, is the tops among groups throughout the city and obtained this record in less than a year. Their first hit was "Juvenile Delinquent" which they sang at the Junior-Senior Prom in '57. Since then they have composed songs and have made themselves well-known. This group consists of Willie Dukes, David Hollingsworth, Leo Campbell, Joseph Howard and Lexia Campbell.

THE BULLS ARE HOT

The Bulls are now ready for the North Carolina AAA Basketball Championship. Coaches Kelly and Carter have performed an excellent job in grooming these boys and now they are the "hottest" team in the state with a 12-2 record in the conference. The Bulls have defeated all of the best teams in the state and should go all the way this year. Who can defeat us with Big J. D. McIntyre pouring in twenty points per game, Douglas McMillan shooting from all positions and refusing to be checked, and Leo Campbell with his cool ball handling. I ask again "Who can stop us?"

THE STUDENT COUNCIL OF '57-'58

E. E. Smith is very proud of the officers she chose for her Student Council for this year. Under the leadership of Alvin Hill much progress has been made. The council began Smith's first radio program, "Smith Chatters", which features news and talent at Smith. Many other projects are in the planning state. The chief aim of the council is to promote better relations among students, teachers, and their communities.

THE RECORD-SMASHING GOLDEN BULLS OF '57

Bobby Williams, Leo Campbell, Williams Carver, Douglas McMillan, Hervey Simmons, David Hollingsworth, Ray Butler, Wesley McGuire, William Freeman, Richard Williams. This is the Senior line-up that contributed greatly to the strength of the mighty Golden Bulls of '57.

The Bulls crushed almost every opponent this year, including Hillside of Durham, a team that Smith had never beaten. The Bulls trampled Oxford, a feat that hadn't been done in many seasons. But the heroic herd ran into one foe that would not give in to them, a power-packed team from Adkins High of Kinston. The first game against Adkins was hard fought all the way down to the bitter end, but the Golden gridders could not pull this one out, the final score--Adkins 7 - Smith 6.

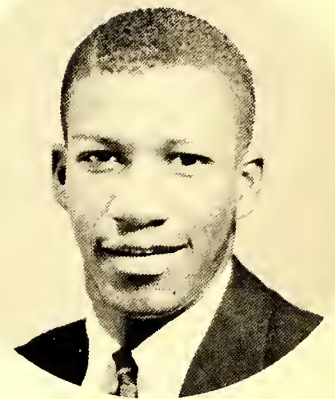

The second time these teams met was in the battle for the conference title. The condition of the weather and the playing field were practically the same as the first time they met. This was a fight of fights. When the mud stopped flying at the end of the game, the score was 0-0. Adkins, in an overtime play, blocked a kick that proved to be disastrous; for in a couple of downs, they broke through a powerful Bull wall for the touchdown.

Thus ended the season for the wonderful E. E. Smith Golden Bulls of '57.

Basketball

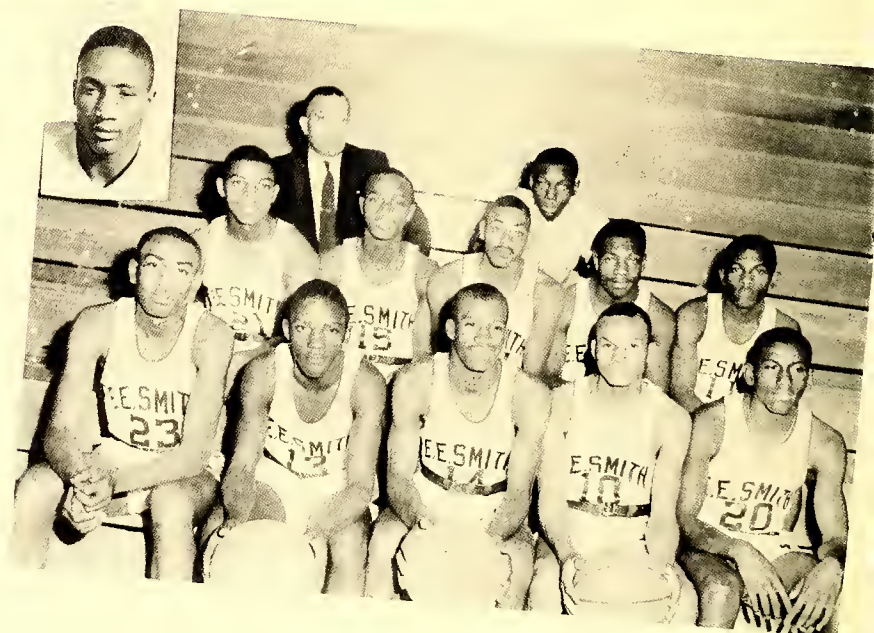

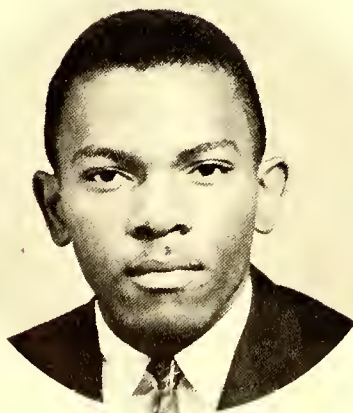

The E. E. Smith Golden Bulls started their 1957-58 basketball season with a bang, winning their first game against the Durham Hornets. The Bulls are still rolling with a first place record in their division.

Carrying most of the weight for the Bulls are Captain Douglas McMillan, a three-year veteran, and John D. McIntyre, a 6'3" center, playing a lot of ball. Douglas McMillan, one of the top scorers on the team, seems to be on his way for glory. The Bulls boast a record of eleven conference wins and three losses. Other top ranking seniors are David Hollingsworth, Bobby Williams, Leo Campbell, William Carver, James Newkirk who have helped tremendously in placing the Bulls at the top of the list.

Coach Kelly seems to be ready for his boys to take the championship this year.

David Hollingsworth and Douglas McMillan will see a lot of action this year. Other guns for the Bulls are Leo Campbell, Bobby Williams, Theolive Washington, James Newkirk, Williams Evans, Robert McQueen. Class Prophecy

Today being such a sultry day, I thought I'd walk through the city park. Thoughts were racing through my mind. Thoughts which reminded me that though I could not foresee the future, I was still the class prophet. Worried by this fact, I sat down under a spreading oak, and leaning my head upon this pillow of wood, I fell into the most fantastic sleep of dreams. Transported into the year of 1968, I discovered a little town called Smithsonia, U. S. A. Discovered is right; for the town I found was recently planted by the class of 1958. It's an ordinary town, with churches, schools, stores, a college and homes with pretty lawns. Would you like to tour it with me? Alright. First, there's Main Street-lined with its little shops. On the left is the V. T. Moore Hospital. Here we find a very competent staff including Dr. Betty McDonald and Nurse Jerlene Nichols, biologist Doris Cook, and Barbara Baird as head laboratory technician. Next door is the office of Franklin Davis - Attorney at Law. Across the street in the McLean Building is the public library where Oxyvenia Hughley is at work. Crossing Massey Avenue, We walk down Brown Blvd. Near the intersection officer Freeman of the city police escorts the school children across the street. They attend the M.S. Spivey Elementary School. The girl with the yellow sweater on is in Miss Mary McMillian's room and down the hall from her room is Miss W.A. Gillis's room. Oh-oh, someone seems to be having car trouble. It's J. D. McIntyre and Leo Campbell going to referee a basketball game at E. E. Miller High School. Oh well, Butler's Esso will take care of them. Let's see, that's Simpson Street, Merritt Street, Leach Blvd, Wright Avenue - yes, there it is, Vander's Chapel - Reverend V. D. Purcell, minister. Across the street is Parker-McLeod: Interior Decorators, Nice company. I hear they decorated the Club Fifty-Eight where the Teen-Tones are singing. The McSwain-Simmons team did the Sheridan Salon where Mme. Ingram is stylist, and Mme. Townsend is manicurist. There's a book store, I think I'll get a paper. Hum- I see Dr. Catherine McDaniel has an article in French Culture in today's issue. Singletary and Young are still working on that top secret electronic invention. Derry Galbreath teaches electronic engineering over at I. C. Fowler University. It's located between Nineteenth Street and Fifty-Eighth Avenue. Care to look around. First there's the Spivey Language Building where Dr. Barbara Smith is head of the Franch department; then there's the Holden Home Economics Laboratory: Marie Pratt-Director, assisted by Miss Linda Hayes and Miss Rothelma McNeil. Over there in that ivy covered building is the McAllister Commercial Building. Miss E. R. McKoy is in charge. Some of her classmates are working as secretaries for large firms. Janet Wilkerson is with the Nathaniel and Marshall Accounting Corporation. Now we see the Kelly-Carter Gymnasium and Athletic Field. Coaches Bobby Williams and William Carver are in charge of the male athletics, while Betty Wright and Odessa Johnson are in charge of women's athletics.

The two story building across from it houses the math and sciences departments. Dr. Usher and Dr. Johnson are having their classes there. I think it's called the Walker-Brown Building. Angelean Bethune is secretary in that building also. Now, there's the Primm Auditorium. They're having a guest pianist tonight I hear. Miss Delores Melvin, reknown artist, is appearing on the invitation of Miss Willie Mae Waugh-director of the college music department. Gee, I'm tired, what about you? I wish we could see more but I think this is sufficient to show the path of the class of 1958. They follow a road to sure success. I foresee a life of health, happiness and prosperity. For we are a class with high hopes and ambitions and will let nothing cause us to fall short of making real our dream of a successful vocation.

Last Will And Testament

We, the 1958 class of E. E. Smith Senior High School, in the town of Fayetteville, the county of Cumberland, and the state of North Carolina, being of sound mind, make our last will and testament on the fourth day of June, one thousand nine-hundred fifty-eight, in the year of our Lord.

To E. E. Smith High we leave the memory of us and the promise that we will always try to live up to her standards.

To the faculty we leave an appreciation that cannot be expressed.

To the Bulls we leave an unforgettable record of wins and encouragement to break it.

To the Juniors we leave the right to be Seniors providing they keep up our standards.

To the Sophomores, our little friends, we leave our school spirit and our tenacity even when the going gets rough and 1960 seems to be so far away.

The following bequeaths are solemnly given in hope that these virtues will be used to the best of the heir's advantages:

Helen Murphy wills her majorette uniform to Barbara Alexander.

Joseph Howard wills his "Teen-tone" jacket to Alphonza Ray.

Betty Wright wills her alto horn to Finida Fisher.

Clarence Jones and William Bronson will their sense of humor to all who don't possess one.

Douglas McMillan wills his athletic powers to James Quick.

Fannie Leach wills her loyalty and ability to Charity Leach.

Barbara Baird wills her quiet air to Mary Lou Ray.

Lexia Campbell wills his deep, masculine, bass, singing voice to any underclassman who admires it.

William Carver wills his neatness to anyone who thinks he can keep the good work up.

Willie Dukes wills his "Cha-cha-cha" and "Mambo" steps to Donald Cox and Taft Holland to divide between themselves.

Marianne McNair wills her ability to have fun no matter what happens to Betty Ann Simmons.

Lavon Melvin wills his way with the girls to Charlie Sheridan.

Hattie Malone wills her band uniform to Cora Evans.

Hervey Simmons wills his skill with a paint brush and canvas to his understudies, H. B. Parker and Wilbert McPherson.

Evelyn Sanders wills her position as head cheerleader to Joan Carver.

Joan McMillian wills her singing ability and popularity to Melva Pridgen.

Ernestine Mock wills her position as head majorette to Dorothy Kemp.

Theolive Washington wills his height to Maxie Harris.

Marshall Williams wills his "Marlon Brando" physique to Elmer McMillian.

Betty McDonald wills her dance steps to Barbara Alexander.

Isiaah Singletary wills his amateur radio enthusiasm to Calvin Holloway.

Odessa Johnson wills her hair style to Hermine Jones.

Betty Edwards wills "Butch" to Dorothy Kemp and her jollity to Harriett McAllister.

Nathaniel Marshall wills scholastic ability to Lynwood Walker and his business qualities to the executive secretary of the class of '59 because he'll need it.

Alvin Hill wills the success of the new Student Council to Alvin Walker and Lynwood Walker.

Eloise Usher wills her little green money-bag to the future 11-1 classes providing they keep it full and her ability to control herself when things get hot to Joan Carver.

Delores Melvin wills her quietness to Carolyn McRae and Jean Berrien.

Barbara Smith leaves her way with words to Resna Allen.
